Youth in Action programme "Youth for democracy project"

3rd Meeting for young people future entrepreneurs in Italy

Palermo, April 12-15, 2013

Summary: The entrepreneurship of young people is considered one of the determinants of the business' performance and of the economic development. It constitutes an efficient tool in order to launch new jobs, to boost the productivity and the competitiveness as well as to battle the poverty.

The "entrepreneurial culture" should be disseminated and on no account should it be hindered by political decisions and initiatives. In this train of thoughts, we wish to hold 4 meetings, of 4 days each, in 4 European countries. For each meeting, a group of 16 young people would-be entrepreneurs coming from France, Greece, Italy and Romania will be moved to action, exchanging know-how & experiences discovering the real conditions, the local-scale policies and initiatives as well as the European policy regarding the young people's entrepreneurship. We will take advantage of all these assets so as to corroborate/enhance the contribution of the young to the configuration of local developmental projects for their regions and to further the spirit of entrepreneurship and the collective entrepreneurship among the European youth. In the course of our project, the young who participate in the meetings will plan and set together a web-club for young European would-be entrepreneurs, which will serve the education/training and the raising to positive awareness of the young in matters entrepreneurial, feed a common culture of entrepreneurship specifically adapted to the young of Europe. This club will make it possible for young would-be entrepreneurs to find support in such a way that the entrepreneurship might gain ground among the young of Europe. It will also help launch and sustain a permanent contact between regional and European politician on the one hand, and the young businessmen and would-be entrepreneurs on the other hand. The club in question is also due to help increase the part of these entrepreneurs in the decision making process on political matters. The young participants in the project will present this web-club to the region-based delegates of the 4 cooperating countries, and to the deputies of the European Parliament (Strasbourg) in the course of their visit there. This club is expected to be established as a forum and a nexus linking the young European would-be entrepreneurs with the politicians, entrepreneurs and experts all around Europe.

Objectives of our project:

We hope that at the project's end the following 6 major objectives will have been attained:

- to enable young would-be entrepreneurs of various national extraction and abilities to exchange their knowledge and to gain an insight into the national policies of 4 European countries and the overall European policy pertaining to the entrepreneurship of the young, be this through visits, meetings, exchanges and discussions.
- to detect and disseminate successful "paths" of entrepreneurship which favor the growing of healthy attitudes and values as well as of entrepreneurial skills with the Youth.
- to incite young people to commit themselves to the cause of developing a entrepreneurship spirit together with other European young people by means of creating a tool for information, meeting, communication, awareness, support and assistance for the sake if entrepreneurship (this tool called the club of European young futures entrepreneurs).
- to strengthen the links between the young and the decision-makers, and to encourage the European young people to engage them self in the political process and to take part in the creation of a friendly environment for the fostering of the entrepreneurship of the youth of the various regions.
- to promote the active participation of the young people in the planning of regional developmental policy with a view to held spread a collective, sustainable and solidarity-fed entrepreneurship.

Where?

This time will take place in Palermo , "The city was founded in 734 BC by the Phoenicians as Ziz. The present name is derived from the Greek Panoremus meaning 'always fit for landing in'. Palermo became part of the Roman Republic, the Roman Empire and eventually part of the Byzantine Empire, for over a thousand years. From 827 to 1071 it was under Arab rule during the Emirate of Sicily when it first became a capital. Following the Norman reconquest, Palermo became capital of a new kingdom (from 1130 to 1816), the Kingdom of Sicily. Eventually it would be united with the Kingdom of Naples to form the Two Sicilies until the Italian unification of 1860.

The population of Palermo urban area is estimated by Eurostat to be 855,285, while its metropolitan area is the fifth most populated in Italy with around 1.2 million people. In the central area, the city has a population of around 650,000 people. The inhabitants are known as Palermitans or, poetically, panormiti. The languages spoken by its inhabitants are the Italian language and the Sicilian language, in its Palermitan variation.

Palermo is Sicily's cultural, economic and touristic capital. It is a city rich in history, culture, art, music and food. Numerous tourists are attracted to the city for its good Mediterranean weather, its renowned gastronomy and restaurants, its Romanesque, Gothic and Baroque churches, palaces and buildings, and its nightlife and music.[1] Palermo is the main Sicilian industrial and commercial center: the main industrial sectors include tourism, services, commerce and agriculture.[2] Palermo currently has an international airport, and a significant underground economy.[citation needed] In fact, for cultural, artistic and economic reasons, Palermo was one of the largest cities in the Mediterranean and is now among the top tourist destinations in both Italy and Europe. The city is also going through careful redevelopment, preparing to become one of the major cities of the Euro-Mediterranean area.]"(1)
